

Overcoming Obstacles TO RELATIONSHIPS

catholic men's conference

saturday, march 20, 2010

cincinnati music hall, 8:30 am

Attend our fellowship conference – come and see how your life can be changed! Become a better individual, husband, father and follower of Christ. Learn how to be more Christlike in your personal responsibilities. Learn how to overcome obstacles to relationships. Participate with your teenage son in a special lunch session on the challenges facing young men today.

Brian Rooney,

a retired Marine captain, national champion college football player and Iraq war veteran, has been a featured guest on numerous television and radio shows across the nation. Brian is the Director of Communications for the Thomas More Law Center, whose mission is to promote the religious freedom of Christians, time-honored family values and the sanctity of human life. Brian is also on the board of the Pittsburgh Steelers, married and the father of three young children.

Jim Gruden

is a lay Pastoral Minister, a Senior Design Engineer and retired Major in the Air Force Reserve. Although a Catholic his whole life, it wasn't until 1997 that he began to encounter the true presence of Christ in the Eucharist through Eucharistic devotion. The impact on his life has been surprising, amazing and lifesaving. Jim has given his testimony to a number of men's fellowship groups in the Southwestern Ohio area. He is married with three children.

Jack McKeon,

a two-time National League Manager of the Year, is the former manager of the Cincinnati Reds and at 72 was the oldest manager to win a World Series when his Marlins won in 2003. As a child during the Great Depression, Jack learned discipline and that you have to earn everything you get. He is a speaker and writer, with a book called I'm Just Getting Started. Jack lives with his wife in Elon, North Carolina, and is the grandfather of nine grandchildren.

Fr. Mark Burger

is Pastor at St. John the Evangelist parish in West Chester, Ohio. He has been recognized at earlier conferences as one of the most impactful presenters. He will return to lead us into a deeper relationship with Christ and guide us through the Reconciliation Service.
